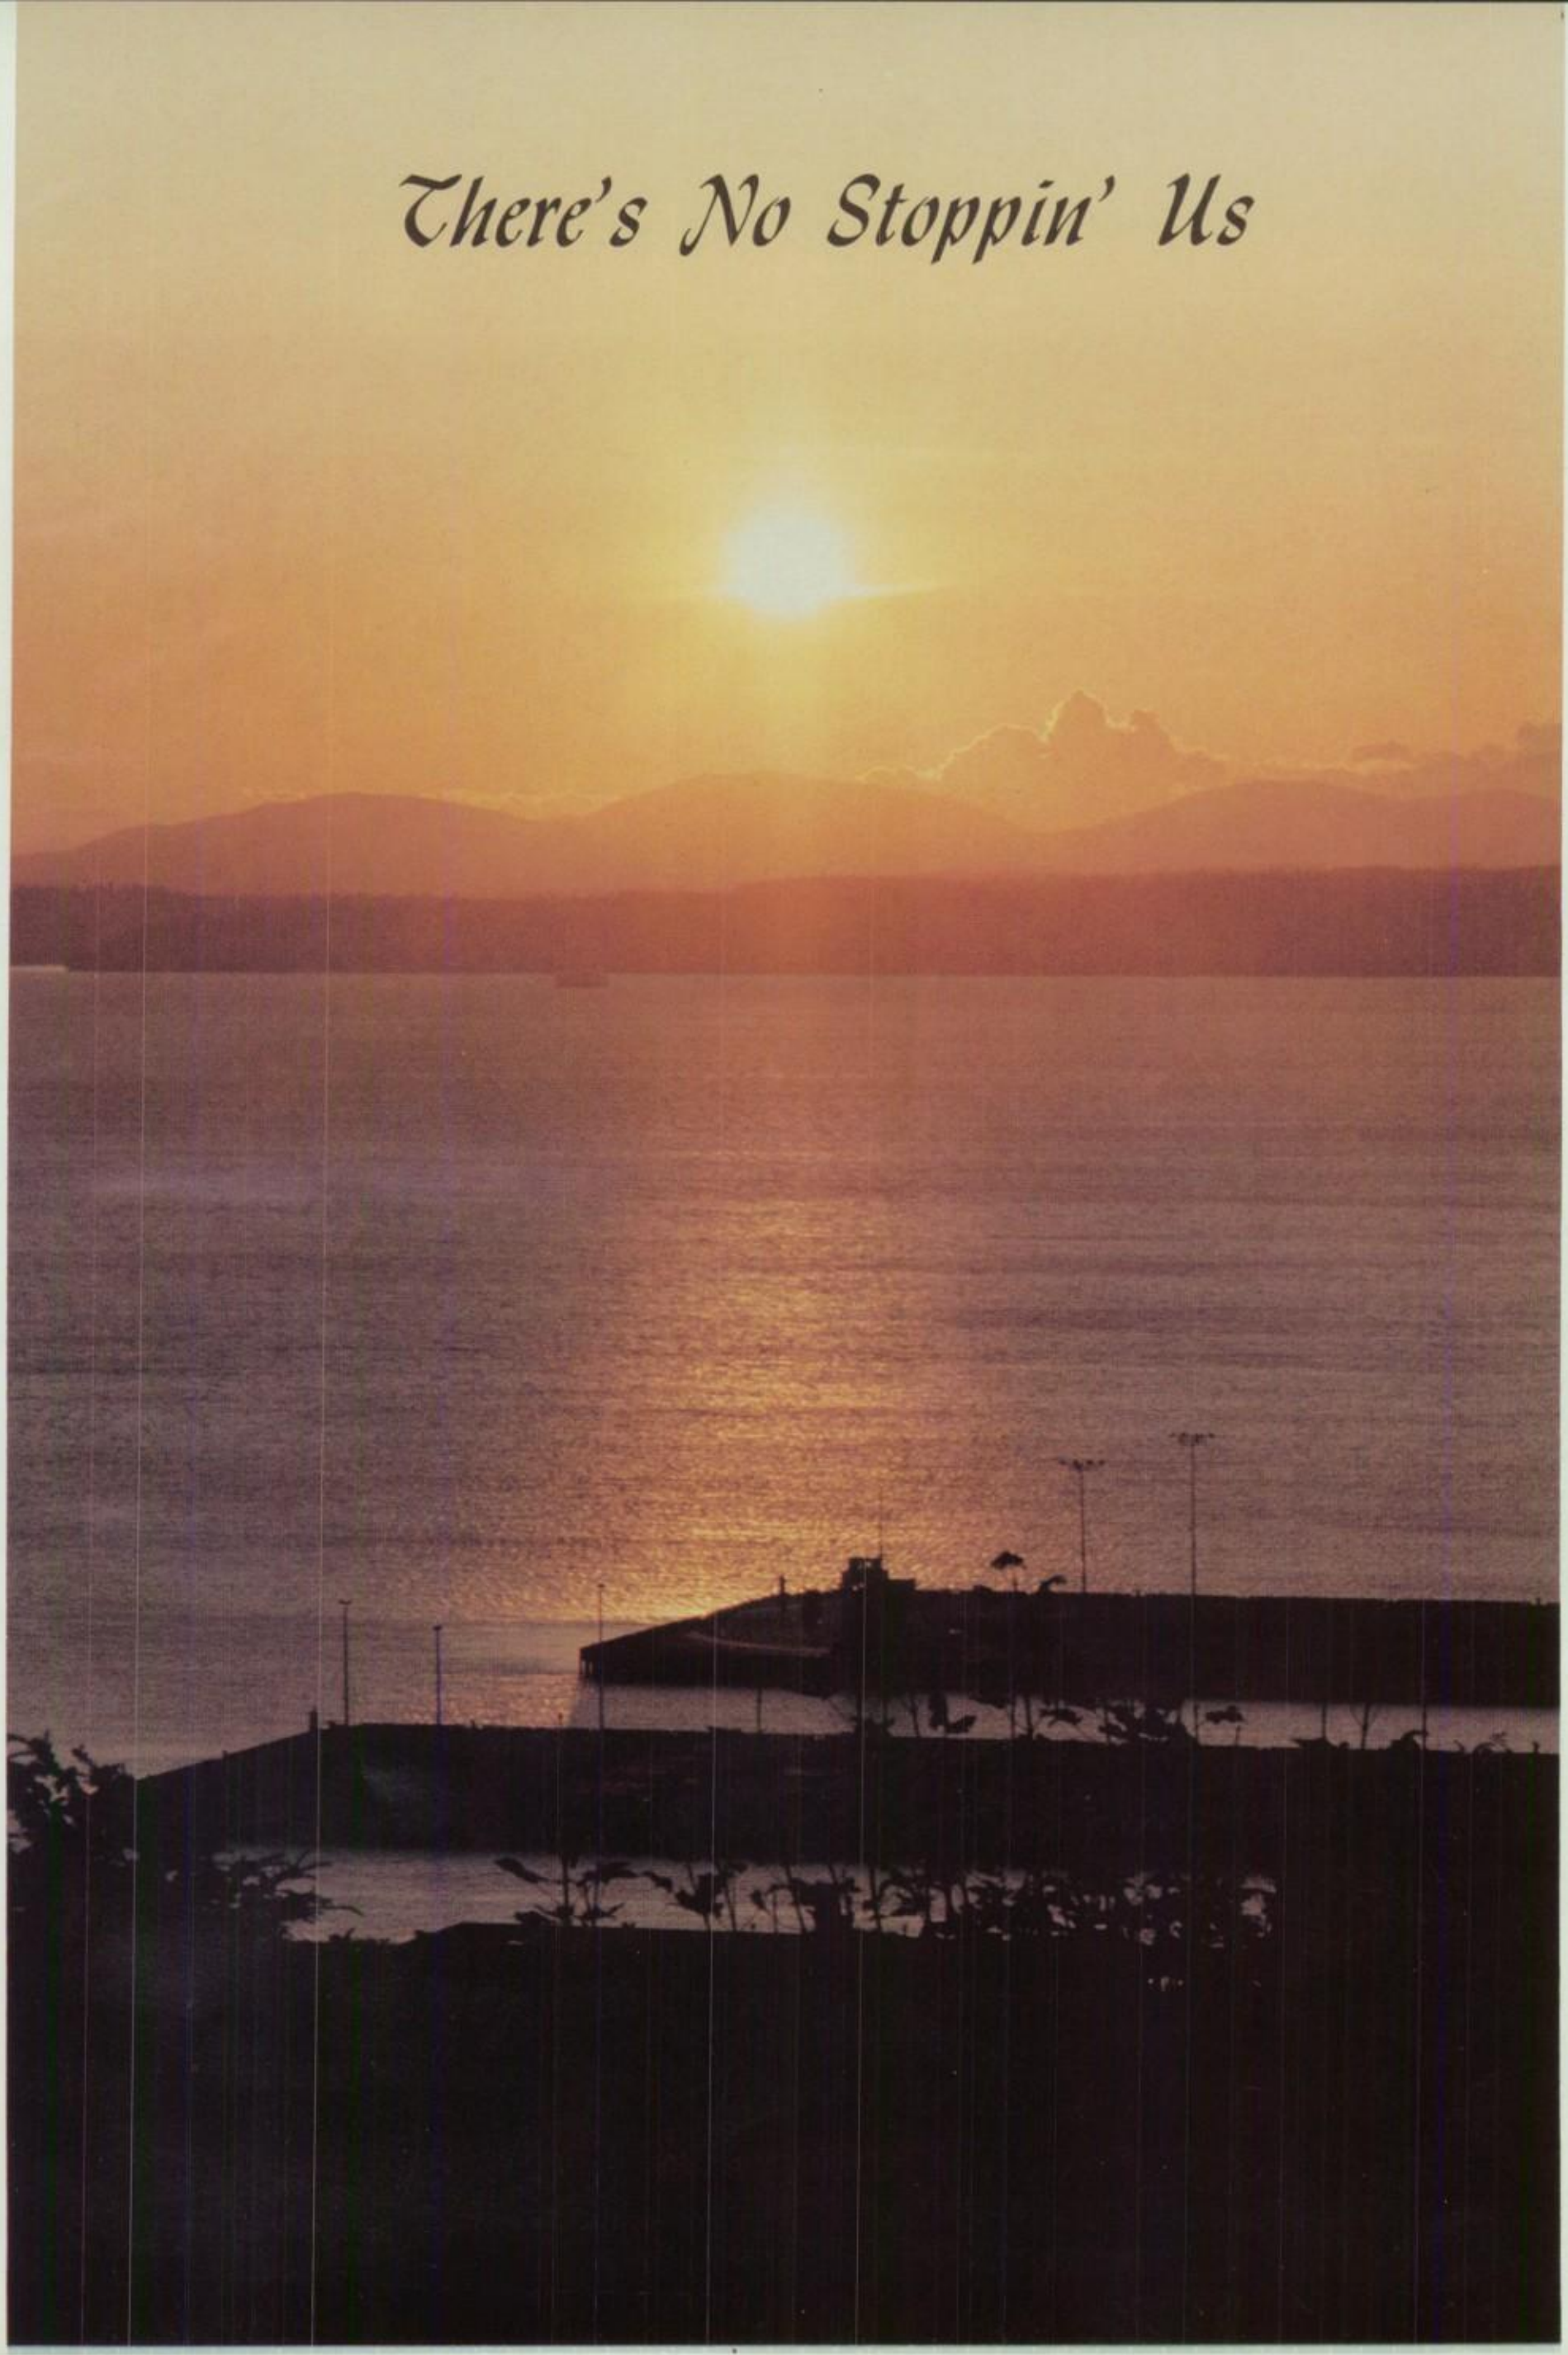
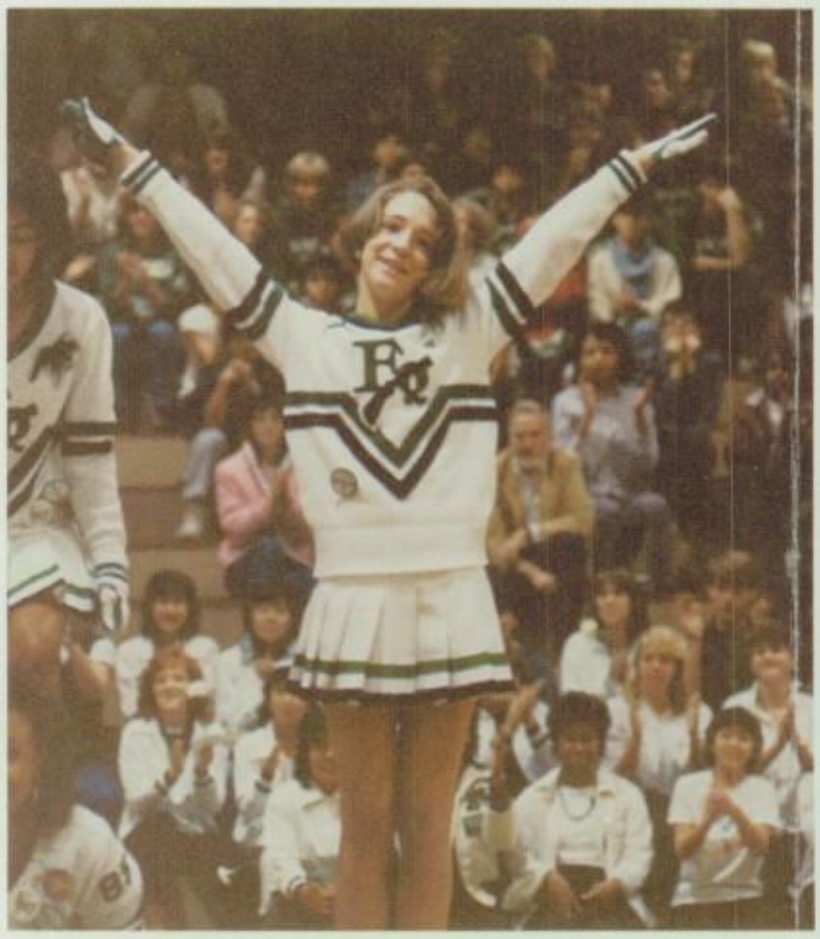
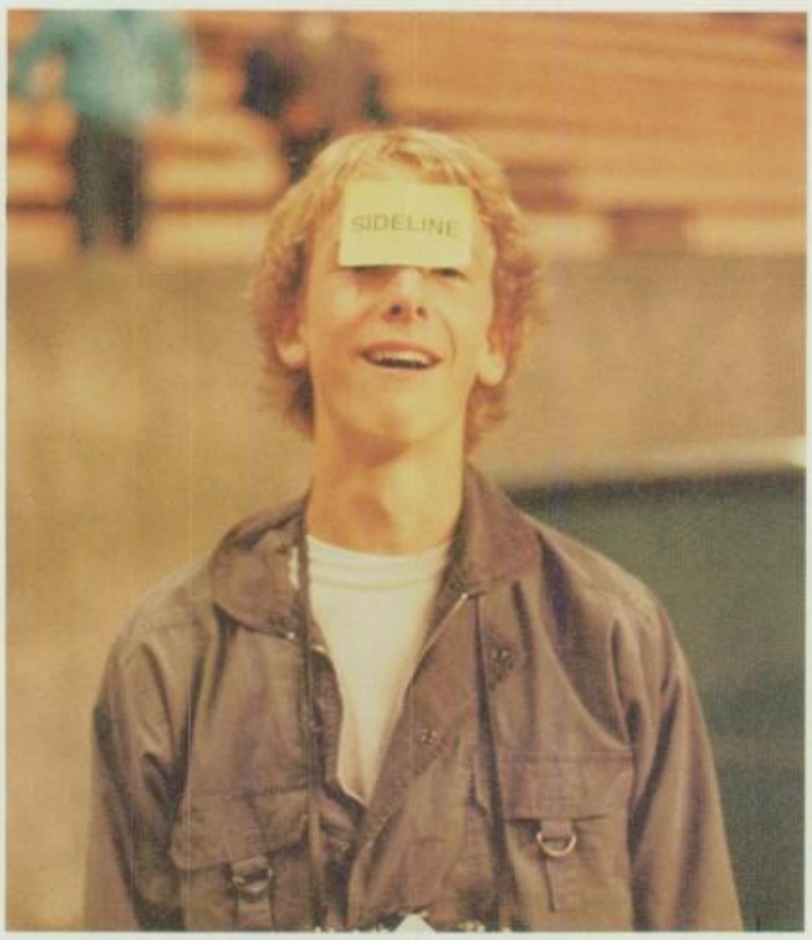
There's No Stoppin' Us



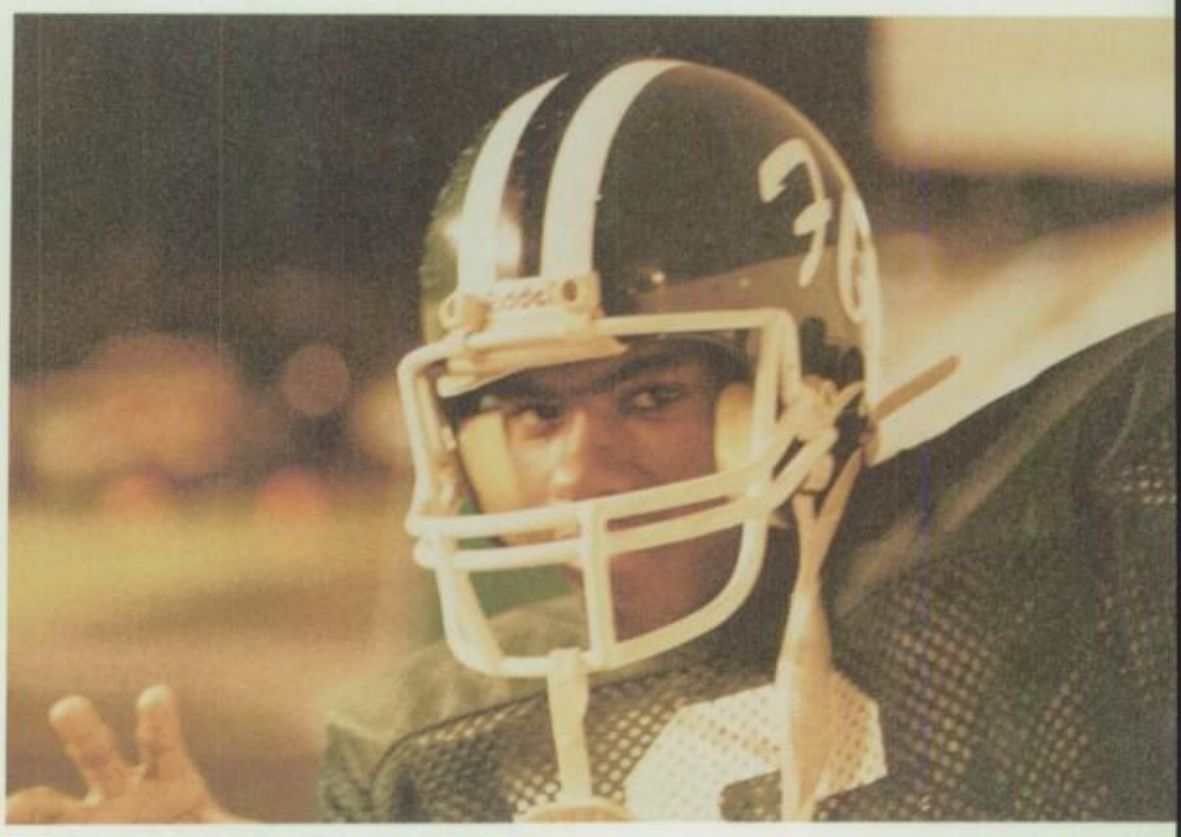
Out in the streets,





you don't survive by being weak

This is our time.



walls were made for us to climb

Don't you try to lock us out,

cuz' were breakin' down the doors and we're here to find . . .

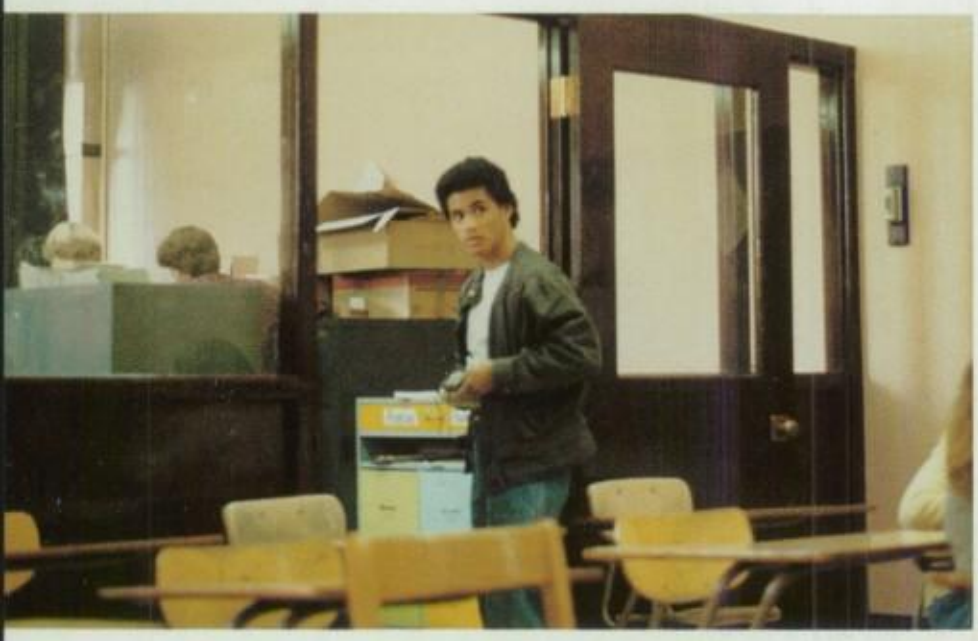
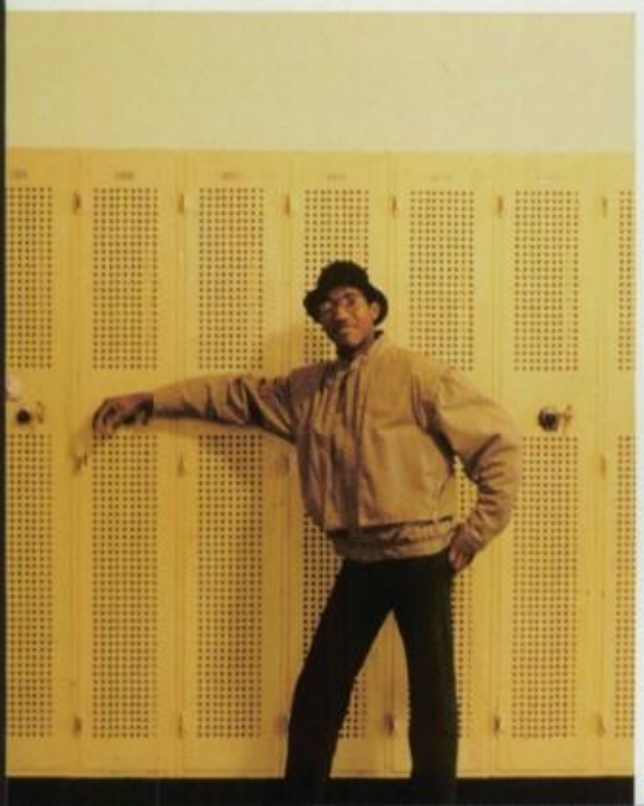
There's no stoppin' us



No one does it better

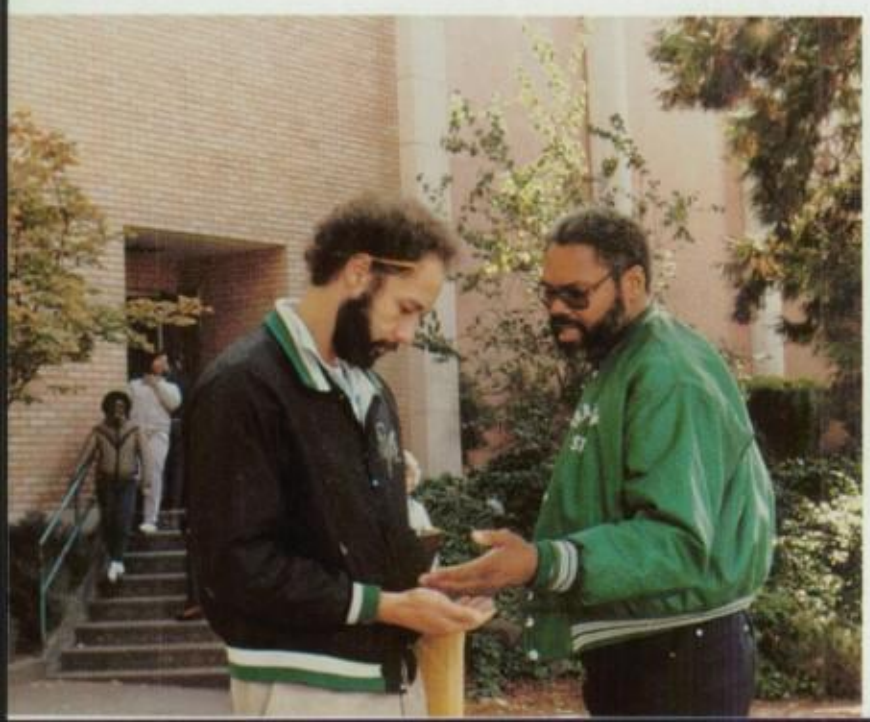


There's no stoppin' us

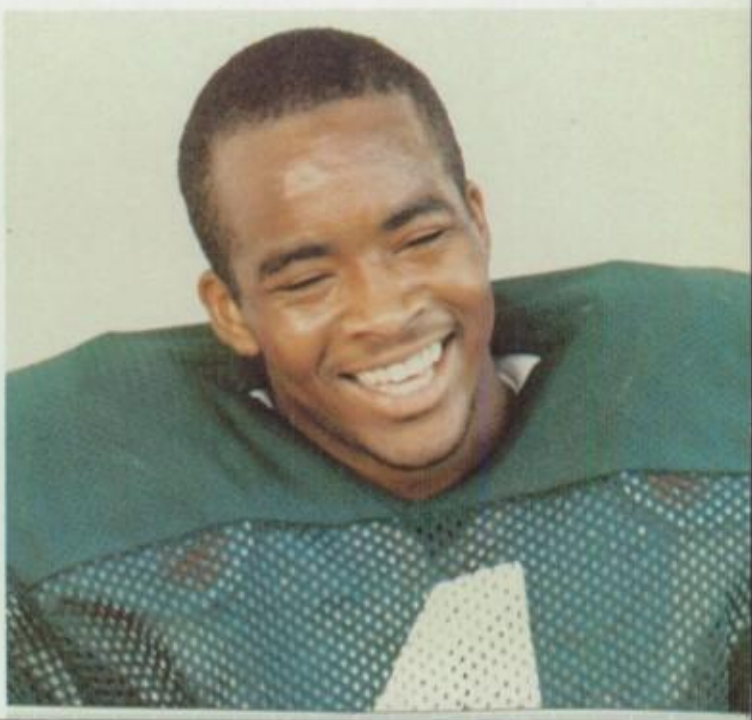
It really doesn't matter . . .

Long overdue.

no playin' games or being used



Something to prove.



it's more than just a dream come true

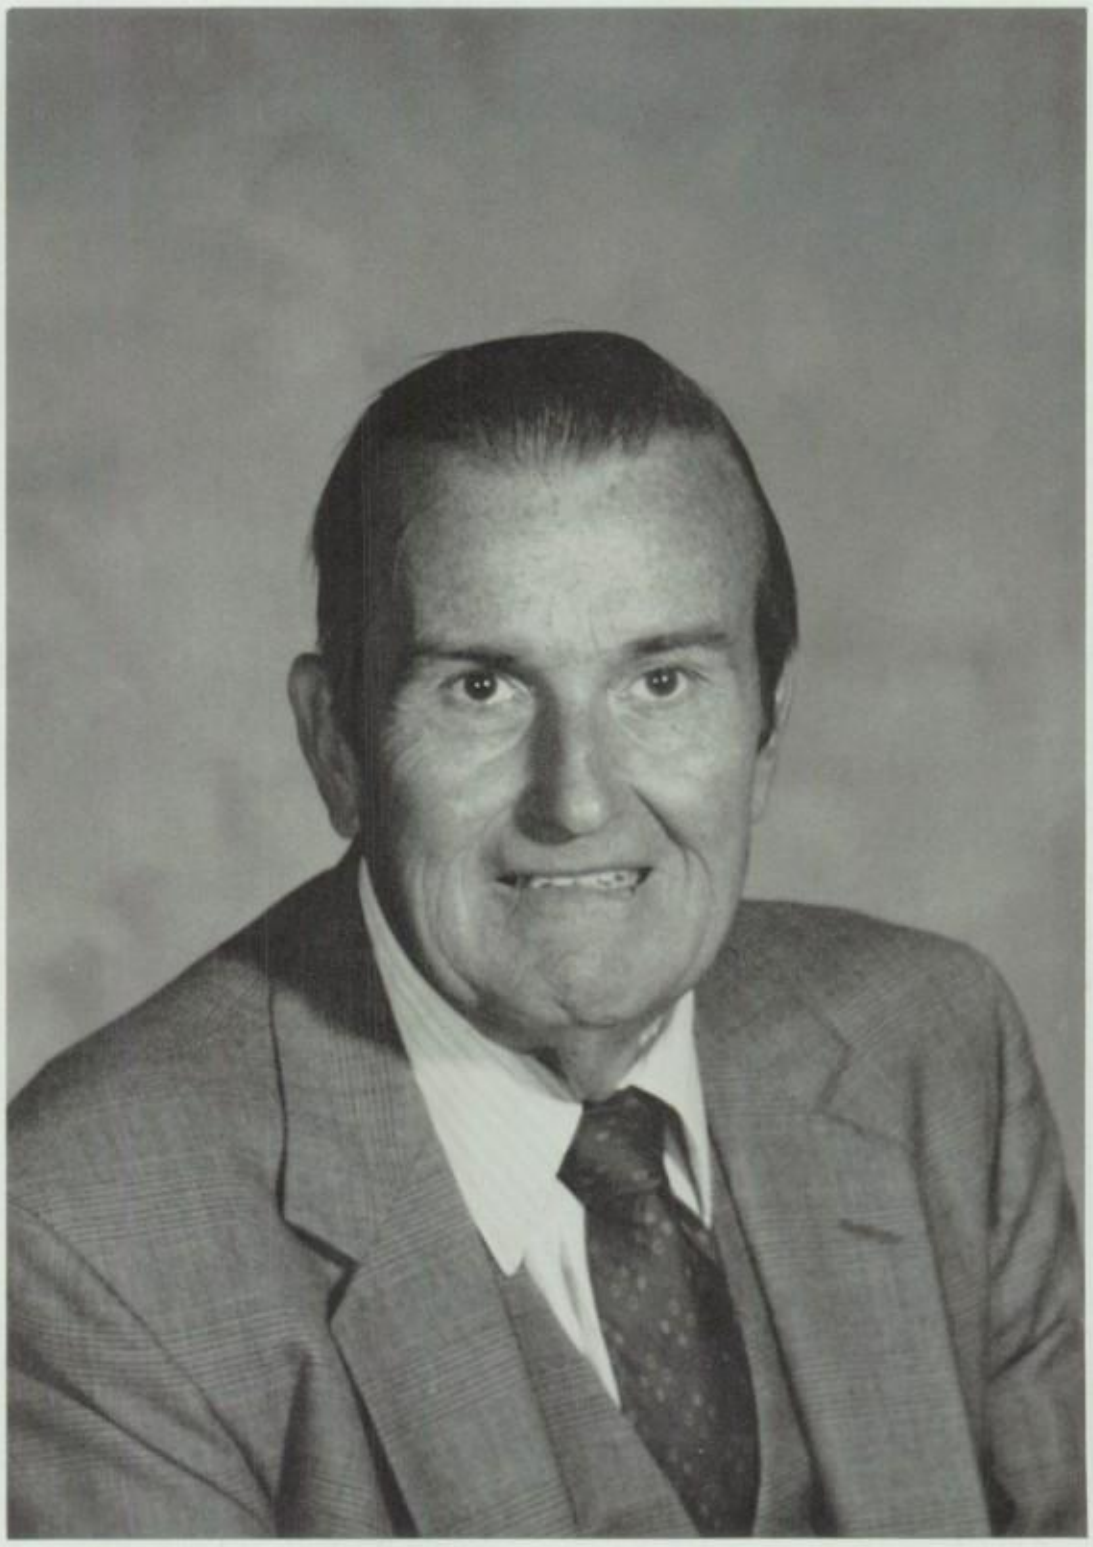
In Memoriam Of Mr. Bean



Every academic school year has its highlights, and the 1984-85 year at Franklin was no exception. Unfortunately, accompaning these highlights, the year has also been distinguished by the loss of a most dear and dedicated teacher.

Since he began teaching in 1969, Vernon W. Bean has enriched and strengthened the math department at Franklin. To say he applied himself fully as a teacher would be a gross understatement. He was always eager to aid in the solving of an equation, and helpful in assuring the understanding of a concept. Throughout his teaching career, from when he began teaching chemistry at Garfield to his years at Franklin, Vernon Bean proved himself to be a competent teacher and mentor. Competent, not in the sense of mere efficiency, but in the sense that he sincerely cared about what he was teaching, and most importantly, to whom it was being taught. He will be remembered for his consistent support of the FHS baseball team, having coached the players as/long as his health allowed him to. His participation with various Little Leagues and Pony Leagues as coach, also distinguish his interest and generosity. His straightforwardness and vocalizing of opinions are qualities also that enriched those he came in contact with at FHS.

With every loss comes the sadness of realising the permanence of the loss of someone's presence, for we no longer are blessed with that person's qualities. But, along with sadness, the loss of a good person brings the joy of acknowledging that we were, indeed, richly blessed. In fond remembrance of a person as generous and helpful as Vernon Bean, we're able to mourn the loss of a friend and, at the same time, be happy that we knew someone surely worth remembering. So it is with equal sadness and happiness that Vernon Bean will be remembered at FHS; sadness that we can no longer be with him, but happiness and graitude for the time he enriched our lives with his presence.

Principal's Message

1984-85 will be remembered as the year true planning began to improve the Franklin facility. Many people representing all aspects of our school community have come together to define the future of Franklin. It has been exciting and will continue to be until completion of the project during the 1988-89 school year.

Franklin students continue to shine scholastically as well as through community service. Our students are known throughout the city for their leadership as student representatives and for their example of active citizenship. The Franklin community is a vibrant community that represents the best of our city.

The Bobbsey Twins

Cheerleaders strut their stuff

Fall Homecoming took place Oct. 8-12. Students showed their spirit by dressing the appropriate attire during the most exciting week of the school year, kicking off with Sports Day on Monday. Hawaiian Day brought surf boards, Ray-Bans, and bold flowered shirts to the shores of FHS. People were seeing double on Twin Day. "Let's Go Crazy" Day had everyone wearing anything outlandish. Finally, came Spirit Day, followed by the all-school pep assembly, which featured the traditional royal Homecoming Court, performances by the '85-85 Cheersquad, a dance number by the Quakerettes, class competitions, and of course, the Spirit Keg. After the assembly came the delectable food fair, in which various clubs and classes at FHS participated. Later the mighty Quakers took on the Garfield Bulldogs at Memorial Stadium. After the game, students returned to FHS for the grand finale ... The Homecoming Dance with the theme "Let's Go Crazy." Many came to 'Go Crazy' with the music of Prince, to share good times with friends and reminisce with Franklin alumni. The green wave of Homecoming spirit finally came to a rest, leaving behind many fond memories for the Quakers.

Aaron Galloway cuts up field to dodge his Ingraham opponent.

The Franklin Quakers football team started the season with high hopes for winning the Metro title. Under the direction of a new coaching staff, Mr. Joe Slye, Benny Wright, and Gartha Morgan, the team was ready to be successful.

The Quakers season didn't start off too well, losing their first two games. The team didn't stop after those losses because they came back to beat Ballard to 0. The season looked like it was going to be good, but the Quakers lost the rest of there regular season games by losing players because of injuries. That still didn't stop them, because they came back to beat Nathan Hale in a non-league.

Quarterback Darrel Galloway prepares to hand the ball to his teammate.

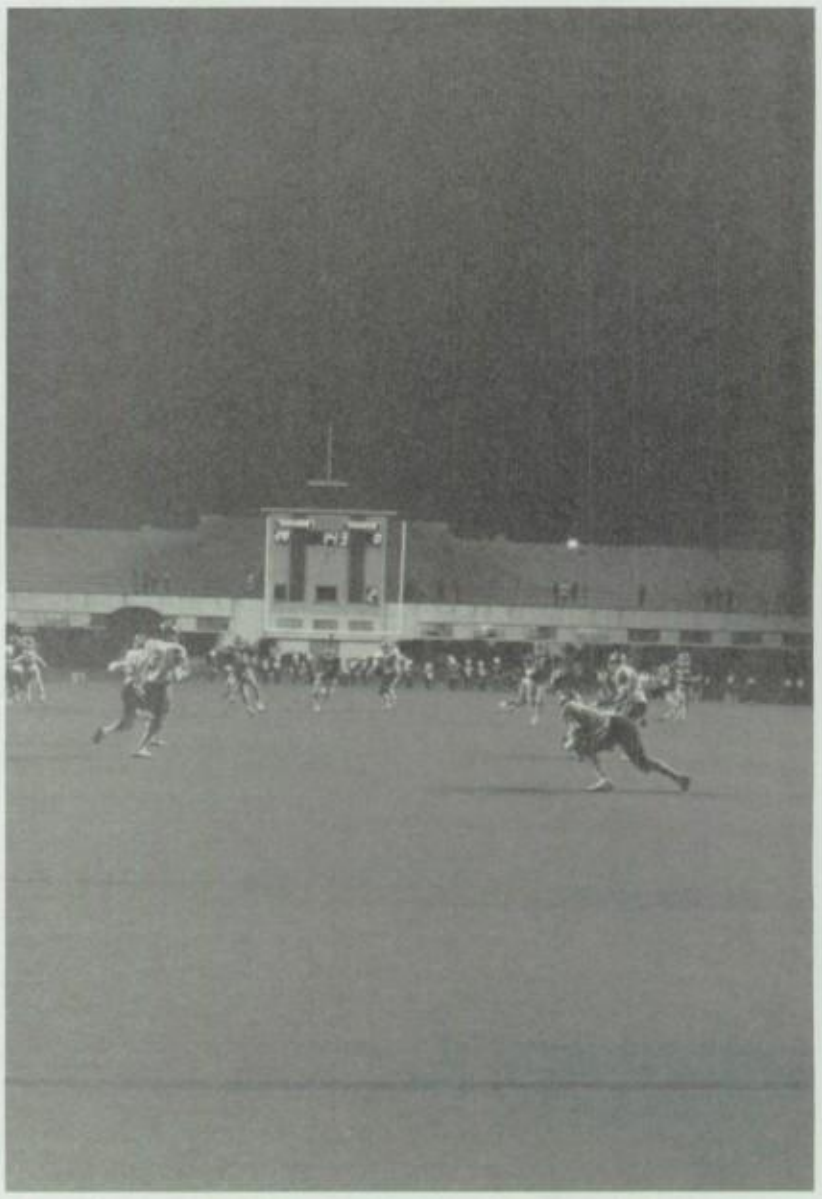
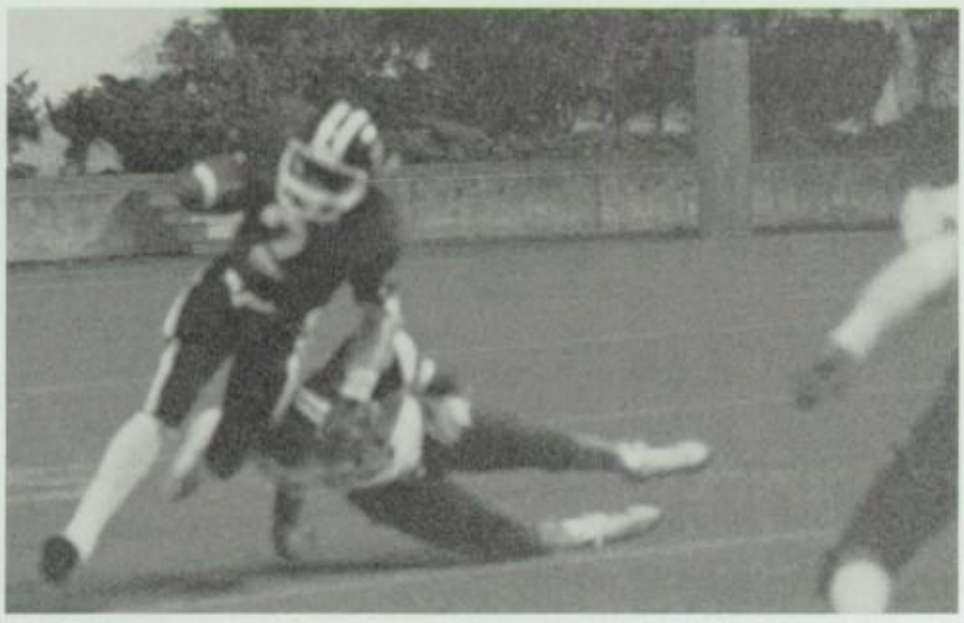
Head Coach Joe Slye talks to Darrel Galloway about a play.



Jeff Calkins reaches out to catch the ball for a punt return.



Runningback Randy McWilliams gets away from one Garfield defender.

The Franklin girl's 1984 soccer team season went slowly. The team had alot of ups and downs during the season, but the new coach, Velco Vitalich, and co-captains Romy Schueller and Kristen Bowler held the team together well, Velco was a strong coach and helped the team to overcome the internal problems that arouse.

The girl's record was 3-9-3 and they ended the season in fourth place.

Although they are losing many valuable players, they are looking forward to the return of Coach Velco to lead then in another successful year.

Womens Volleyball

Under the leadership of coach Loretta Day and assistant coach Lenora Lee, the 1984 womens volleyball team got off to a slow start. Most of the players had never played together, but once members adjusted to each other and learned to play as a team, the Quakers were soon on their way.

The team finished with a overall record of 5 wins and 5 losses. The Quaker women had a lot of team spirit and potential to carry them through the competitive season although the record wasn't what everyone expected. Next year with 4 returning starters the women will be top contenders for the AAA Crown.

CROSS COUNTRY

Under the directions of coach Don Bundy, the cross country team proved to be a group of skillfull runners. The men had a competitive season and placed 5th in the Metro League.

The women did exceptionally well and placed 3rd in the Metro League with the help of Nancy and Cindy Leong. Next year the team will have many returning lettermen.

Shawn Miller leads the pack

Senior Rick Noji helps out Coach Don Bundy, as they write down the times of our outstanding runners.

Our own girls x-country runners and Bob Fischer grin and yell while supporting the Quakers.

"Smile Nancy!", as everybody takes off for home after an important win for the Quakers.

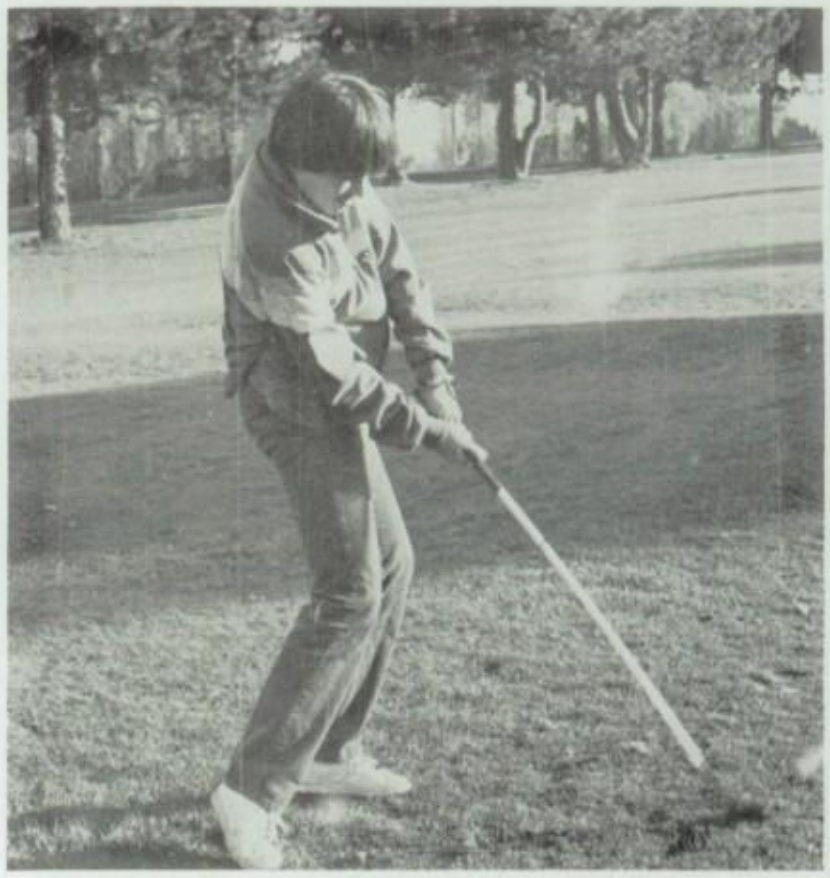
The golf team, coached by Nancy Rybock, had a much improved season this year. Even though the team consisted of mainly sophomores and freshmen and lacked experience, the team was competitive throughout the season. The boys team, led by metro players Chris Schorling and Daniel Friedman, ended the season with a spectacular victory over Roosevelt. Chris Schorling, a German exchange student, placed ninth in Metro individual competition. Kimberly Tonkin, Metro player, and senior Debbie Poc led a much improver girls team to two victories over Cleveland and Roosevelt.

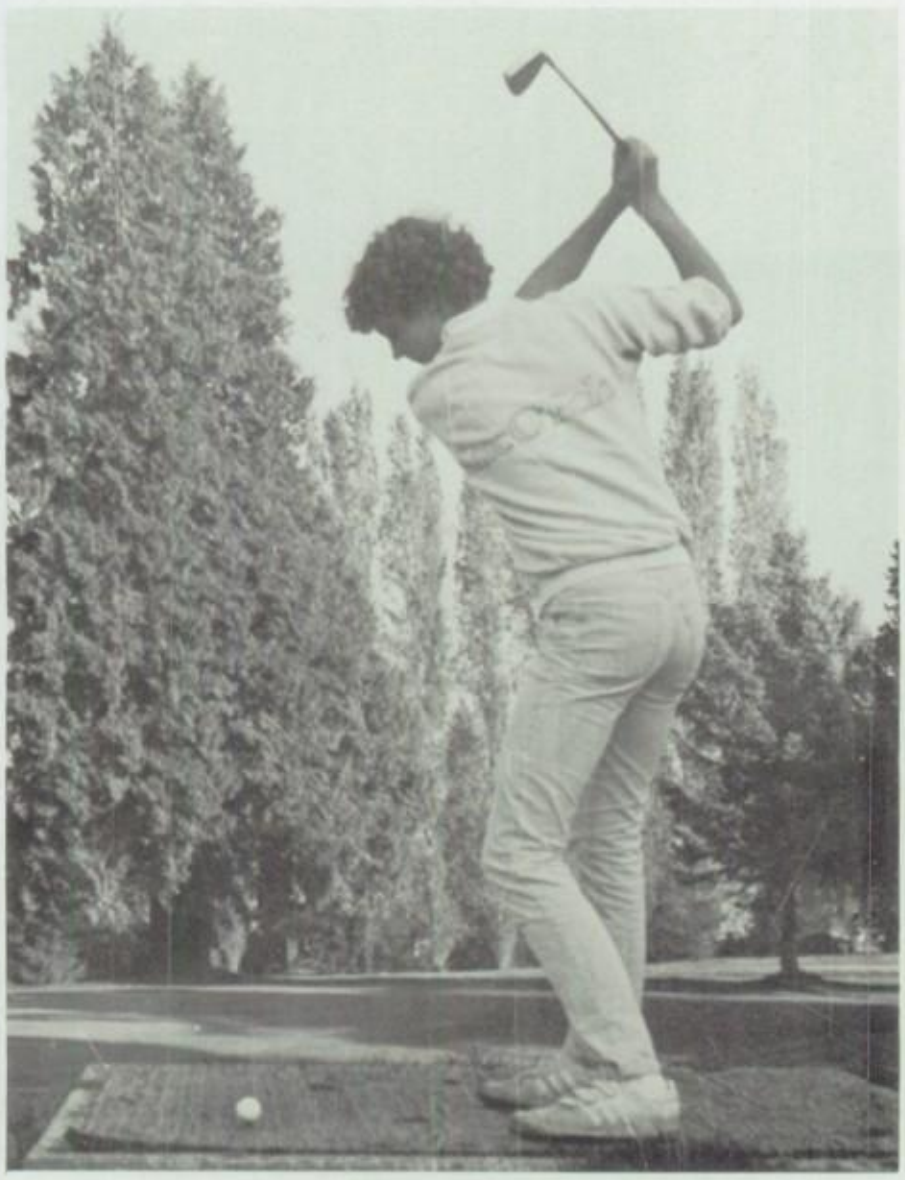
The golf team faired excellently in spite of youth and inexperience. It featured only two returning varsity players, Brooke Barbour and Marc Baxter. This season was a learning experience for most of the team members. "With many varsity players and the enthusiasm characterized by this season, the golf team eagerly looks foward to next year!"

John King chips to the eighth green.



Dan Friedman sends the ball sprawling to the hole.

Kim Tonkin meditates before her shot.



German talent Chris Schorling, strokes again.

Bob Charles groans for joy as his ball flies straight down the fairway.

"I'm suppose to be taking the picture!"

The Annual Staff this year put forth their best efforts in putting together a great annual for the '84-'85 year. It took dedication, patience and team effort to put it all together. The staff spent long hours working together to meet their deadlines. Making layouts, cutting, pasting, taking pictures and typing are just some of the duties that are involved to produce an annual. The '84-'85 annual staff is proud to present this TOLO to the student body and staff of Franklin High School.

The Franklin Tolo newspaper is published monthly. Putting out each issue takes alot of time and dedication from its staff. This year it would have been impossible to publish each issue without the financial help of the advertisers, ASB, and the PTSA. The newspaper staff feels that it has strived to put out issues that would be interesting to the students, faculty, and community. There are a side range of duties on a school newspaper: gathering and reporting stories; pasting layouts; and most of all meeting deadlines. As difficult as it was to put out each issue of the Tolo, the staff felt that there was alot accomplished.

The Associated Student Body was busy planning activities and events throughout the year. The A.S.B. had one major goal this year and that was raising money to meet their budget, along with coordinating fun events such as dances and talent shows.

One of the purposes of the A.S.B. is to get students more involved in extracurricular activities. The A.S.B. card entitles the student to be involved in school activities, along with receiving the TOLO newspaper and yearbook.

The A.S.B. devoted much of their time and hard work towards helping with the pancake breakfast, Homecoming activities, and concession stands to make this year a successful one.

Senior Class Officers

"There's No Stoppin' Us" was the theme of the Class of 1985. The seniors started their year off by promoting Quaker Spirit with Franklin flags and buttons. The Class of '85 displayed class pride with banners, t-shirts and '85 pins. In November, the senior class held the first annual lip sync contest at Franklin, which was very successful. Senior cards were sold to eliminate the rising costs of senior activities. Senior activities started off with the trip to Stuart Anderson's ranch in Ellensburg in May. The senior luncheon was held at Longacres, where the senior polls were announced and slideshow presented. Seniors were honored on Quaker Day, and capped off the night with the prom held at the Westin Hotel. Seniors struggled through their last days with final exams and then were treated to a final party at the Arctic Club. The Class of '85 was the first freshmen class in 23 years to graduate from FHS. On June 3, the 100th commencement exercises of the Seattle Public Schools were performed at the Seattle Center Arena, where the Class of '85 received their diplomas with pride.

The Junior Class did a good job this year. The money from fundraisers will help make their senior year a great success. With the help of the junior class, they had alot of profitable activities such as bake sales, food fairs, Halloween Dance, and Winter and Valentine's Day Gram sales. The Junior Class officers would like to give special thanks to the people who helped and supported them all through the year.

The Sophomore Class of the 1984-1985 school year, was very successful under the direction of sophomore class president Mike Wampold. The officers and students set out to "raise as much money as possible." They accomplished this and much more. They had support from a wide range of students in their bake and candy bar sales. They showed the entire school that the class of '87 is not only superior financially, but in spirit also.

Mike Wamplod, Lisa Wilcox, Ilana Guttman, Julia Steele

Freshmen Class Officers

The Freshman Class of 1984-'85 got off to a very good start. Starting from scratch, they had various fundraisers to increase their funds, such as: bake sales, coat checks, pancake breakfast ticket sale, in which they managed to sell more than any other class or organization; and a candy bar sale. Thanks to everyone's involvement and support, the Class of '88 was able to add to it's account, and have a very successful year.

"We can't stop dancing."

Spirit, energy and dedication are the words which best describe the '84-'85 Quakerettes. They practice a minimum of three times a week, at an average of 3 hours per day. The girls first performance was LIVE entertainment during halftime at the varsity boys football Homecoming game. They had many other performance throughout the year, including school assemblies. The Quakettes are a special treat to Franklin.

Becoming a cheerleader takes patience, dedication, and hard work. You have to be willing to sacrifice alot of your free-time and outside activities. Last summer, the cheersquad went to cheer camp, they learned different routines, jumps and cheers. They met other cheerleaders from other schools also. They participated in various activities. The squad won the "pep paddle" three nights in a row and brought it home because of their outgoing entusiasm and spirit. The squad also received ribbons of excellence.

Bringing home their enthusiasm and spirit, they began to prepare for the school year. Other activities included participation in Band Day at the Husky Stadium, Battle of the Metro Cheerleaders, and a cheerleading competition at Seattle Center. The '84-'85 cheersquad brought spirit and pride to FHS.

"I said 'WORK'"

Under the direction of Mr. Johnson, the library assistants of Franklin High School work with various skills such as filing, shelving books, and assisting students with their needs for library materials. They are an invaluable resource for the student body in locating materials for research papers and book reports, just to name a few. Their work may seem tedious, but they enjoy the benefits that come with the job. They all agree that while working in the library you can brush up on your math and verbal skills and meet alot of interesting people.

Youth Advisory Council

Jeff Calkins, Jay Waumpold

Dolly David, Advisor

The Youth Advisory Council is a newly formed organization which first met in November 1984, to make school lunches in the cafeteria more meaningful. Dolly David, Home Economics Department Head, is the head of this organization which has been meeting with Franklin students to discuss what we should have in the Franklin cafeteria. YAC consists of four Franklin students; Jay Wampold, Tim Gaughan, Nathan LaFayette, and Jeff Calkins who meet monthly with David; Joanne Chever, Supervisor of Food services; and Pat Russell of the Franklin lunchroom, to discuss ideas that have been expressed by students through a survey of what students would like to see in their school lunches. So far these changes have been the new potato bar, changing the juice cups into a larger size, a milkshake machine, and the SAC placed a pop machine in the lunchroom. These ideas will be carried through in the new Franklin. YAC has put forth much effort to make these changes, and will continue to work hard to make the school lunches more appealing to the students.

The Natural Helpers program involves students helping each with problems they face in high school. Franklin was the first Seattle school to establish the program this year. The Natural Helpers program is headed by Susan Hagist, Acting Chairperson of the Natural Helpers Advisory Board, which consists of other staff members and students of FHS.

Natural Helpers were a cross-section of students and staff identified through a school-wide survey taken in Fall. The role of a Natural Helper is to listen to those who need help, find alternatives, and refer professional help when needed.

The Natural Helpers had various fundraisers to help finance their training retreat in October at Camp Cispus. They had support from rotary clubs around the area, and the school district. Hug Passes were sold during the food fair. During the retreat, the Natural Helpers learned various skills, including trust and problem solving. They dealt with issues such as teenage suicide and alcohol and drug abuse. The group worked together to find alternatives and solutions to these problems.

Follow-up sessions were held at school to utilize the skills derived from the reteat. The Natural Helpers program is an invaluable asset to Franklin.

The Franklin Wrestling Team finished out the season with a 5-1 record, giving them the title of the Public School Champions. The Quakers went into the All-Metro Championship Tournament looking to even the score.

Seven wrestlers qualified for the finals, starting with 101 lb. Dan Friedman, a first year wrestler, Doug Muneta, the defending Metro Champ at 108 lbs, Derrek Radisich at 115 lbs., Scott Vanderway 135 lbs., Aaron Galloway at 158 lbs., Al Donohue at 190 lbs., and in the unlimited division Leon McKensie.

All in all the Quakers should be very proud of their performance at Metro. The seven finalists plus third place finishers Yale Wong and Sean Hilt all went to Regionals.

At the beginning of the season the Franklin Swim Team knew they would be looking at somewhat of a building year. However, with a little bit of luck, and some strong performances the swim team has rocked up a very respectable 3-3 win-lose record.

They opened the season with a loss to Ballard but quickly bounced back with a narrow victory against Chief Sealth. They continued to ride the yo-yo with a loss to Nathan Hale, followed by a very impressive 208-96 win over West Seattle and finished with a loss to Rainier Beach.

There were 13 swimmers who qualified for the metro finals and four who qualified for district playoffs Oliver Koehler, David Shigaki, Paul Yoshihara and Eric Sumi.

The Quakers Men's Basketball team began the year with only one returning letterman, captain Darrel Galloway. With the help of starting line up Anthony Cryer, Nick Carter, Mike Kohler and Alonzo Scott, the Quakers placed fourth in Metro. They ended their season with an overall record of 5-15.

In addition to playing the Metro teams, the Quakers traveled to Canada to take on two Richmond teams in the Richmond Tournament.

C o-Captain Anthony Cryer, Nick Cater and Mike Kohlder will be the only three team members returning next year. This will be a good foundation for coaches Dave Belmonte and Wayne Floyd for next year.

The women's 1984-85 basketball team took the Metro Championship for the second consecutive year with a record of 18-2. The team was very tough with the help of two new starters, point guard Nancy Santos and Kim Morris This year's team consisted of ten players: Nancy Santos, Kim Morris, Shannon Smith, Rochelle Walker, Shaunte Bueleson, Valerie Gray, Roberta Collier, Tracie Hooper, Charolette Johnson, and Amy Lee all led by outstanding coach Thomas Williams.

The team had a very strong season placing second in the Sea-King District playoffs. They worked their way through regionals by beating Oak Harbor and made it to state for the second year. The Quakers won their first game in state against Puyallup and things were looking good. They didn't finish where they wanted to finish but won a strong 5th place in state and are happy. Next year four outstanding starters will be back and they plan on a first place in state. The Quakers finished the season with a record of 22-5.
